TWO MEN DROWNED.

Seattle, Sept. 29.—Two lives lost and a third man rescued in such a condition that he may die, is the story brought from Fairbanks by one of the passengers of the Roanoke, which reached port this morning.

Three woodchoppers, whose names were not learned, had been cutting wood for the steamer on the Upper Tanana, and, having finished their contract, attempted to float down the river to Fairbanks. While attempting the passage of Bates rapids their boat was swamped, with the result stated.

ELECTIONS ON THE THIRD OF NOVEMBER

Nomination of Candidates for the Dominion House Will Take Place One Week Earlier.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—Parliament has been dissolved. The nominations take place on October 27th, and the general elections on November 3rd.

The State department and the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery presented a busy scene yesterday on account of the dissolution. The work of sending out the writs and preparing for the boards of registration in Ontario is going actively on. The list of the returning officers is not yet ready for publication.

Sir William Mulock left last night for Toronto to look after campaign arrangements. Other ministers will be leaving soon, and in the course of a few days the contest will be under way.

The writs for the Northwest were forwarded today.

SHARP FIGHTING IN VICINITY OF MUKDEN

WINTER EQUIPMENT FOR THE JAPANESE.

London, Sept. 29.—The Daily Mail's Liao Yang correspondent, telegraphing September 28th, says:

"The winter equipment for the Japanese troops is completed. Fresh supplies of ammunition have arrived, and the army is ready to march at a moment's notice."

JAPS DRIVE IN THE RUSSIAN OUTPOSTS

The Defenders of Port Arthur Reported to Have Repulsed Besiegers
At All Points.

(Associated Press.)

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—4.50 p.m.—From a reliable source the Associated Press hears that sharp fighting has occurred near Mukden, resulting in the Japanese driving in General Kourapatkin's outposts.

Important dispatches have been received and transmitted to the Emperor. They are believed to confirm the Associated Press information. The general staff, however, is unable at present to go beyond the prospective assurance that the main Russian army is still at Mukden.

COMMANDER REVIEWS NEWLY ARRIVED MEN.

Mukden, Sept. 30.—The delay in the resumption of the aggressive by Field Marshal Oyama, according to the best information, is due to the necessity of unloading good the losses which he sustained at Liao Yang and to the bringing in of stores and munitions. But the preparations for an active forward movement of the Japanese now seem to have been completed and a serious engagement is regarded as imminent.

Gen. Kourapatkin today reviewed several detachments of troops which have just arrived here and conferred the St. George cross upon all officers who distinguished themselves at the battle of Liao Yang.

SMALL LOSSES IN OUTPOST AFFAIRS.

Field headquarters of the second Japanese army, Sept. 28, noon, via Fusan, Sept. 30, evening.—The changing of the gauge of the railway has been completed within ten miles of Liao Yang, and it is expected that within three or four days the first train will be run over the new tracks.

There is no change in the situation. Japanese outposts are now 15 miles to the north.

There are daily clashes between Japanese outposts and Russian patrols, usually resulting in only small casualties.

THINKS A RATTLE MAY BE DELAYED.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—The war expert of the Novoe Vremya, says he believes a battle at Mukden is possibly days and even weeks distant.

The Novoe Vremya continues to urge that Gen. Kourapatkin be appointed commander-in-chief, intimating again that he has been embarrassed by Viceroy Alexieff.

JAPS REPULSED AT PORT ARTHUR.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—The general staff has received news that in the general assault on Port Arthur from September 20th to September 26th the Japanese were everywhere repulsed.

taken by surprise, and were able to offer only ineffective resistance. The Russians, at last finding that they were unable to hold their own against the Japanese attacking force, retreated, leaving their dead and wounded behind them.

When the Japanese attack was discerned from the other Russian fortress, fire from the latter was directed against the Japanese assaulting party, and at last accounts this was still being maintained. It is considered doubtful whether or not the Japanese will be able to retain possession of their newly acquired position.

The greater portion of the Japanese fleet has returned to the Japanese base, in the Elliot Islands, the Japanese commander having become convinced that the Russian vessels within the harbor of Port Arthur are almost incapable of further resistance, and of making any sortie into the open sea. The Japanese have succeeded in almost wholly cutting off the water supply of Port Arthur, and this, of course, would make it impossible for the warships to steam out to sea.

The United States warships Cincinnati and Frolic, which have arrived here, report having heard continuous firing in the direction of Port Arthur, and it is believed that this firing was that of the engagement told of by the Chinese who arrived here in junk.

JAPAN STRENGTHENS HER FIGHTING FORCE.

Tokio, Sept. 29.—At the foreign office this evening it was stated that the new conscription regulations will augment the Japanese available fighting force by 200,000 men.

CITY ISOLATED.

Great Damage Wrought by Flood at Trinidad, Col.—Bridges Swept Away.

(Associated Press.)

Denver, Col., Sept. 30.—Extensive damage is reported to have been done at Trinidad, Col., last night by a flood. All wires in the vicinity were down this morning, and communication with the city is entirely cut off. All bridges in and about the city are said to have been washed away, and no trains can go in or out of the Santa Fe, Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado & Southern. The latest report received was that the Santa Fe depot had been washed away, and the Harvey hotel was threatened with destruction.

notice. The personal treatment of foreign correspondents with the Japanese has been completely revolutionized."

The Daily Telegraph's Simsbury correspondent, under date of September 28th, says that Captain Boyd, an American officer on leave, is going to join the Russians from Simsbury.

SLOWLY BUT STEADILY ADVANCING ON FORTRESS.

Chefoo, Sept. 29.—The news received from Port Arthur continues to show a steady, if slow, advance of the Japanese upon the Russian fortifications. Day by day the remote positions of the beleaguered fortress are taken by the Japanese, one by one, and that the fall is only a matter of time—a short time now, is the general belief here.

The number of Chinese refugees arriving here increases constantly, and this is taken to bode no good for the Russians.

The last batch of these Chinese who have arrived from Port Arthur report a still further advance by the Japanese. According to these latest reports, several of the most important positions held by the Russians farthest from the central fortress have been taken by the Japanese, the latter inflicting considerable loss upon the Russians.

The Japanese had tunneled approaches to these positions, and finally, with the help of mines, made their way within the fortifications. The Russians were

So far as known there has been no lives lost.

Trinidad is the centre of an extensive coal mining region. Its population numbers about 5,000.

At the Colorado & Southern train dispatcher's office in this city, it was said that the last news received from Trinidad was that the city reservoir had gone out early this morning. It could not be learned whether any loss of life resulted or what damage was done.

LAWYERS AND JURISTS.

Congress Completes Its Labors at St. Louis—Address by Hon. Sir W. R. Kennedy.

(Associated Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—The programme arranged for the universal congress of lawyers and jurists, which has been in session at Festival hall in the World's Fair grounds since Wednesday, was completed to-day. The interest awakened by the discussions and theories of law advanced by the noted jurists of this and foreign countries was enhanced rather than lessened, by the fact that it was the closing session. The subject for consideration was "To what extent should judicial action by courts of a foreign nation be recognized." It was presented by Hon. Sir William R. Kennedy, justice of the High court of England, and was considered with especial reference to the status of individuals as affected by divorce or other decrees, and the right to represent the person or property of another.

Sir William R. Kennedy declared, in his address, that the subject upon which he had been invited to speak was one of very real importance to the family of civilized nations. He said the complete unification of laws is as far beyond the range of practical possibility as the universal adoption of a common language.

"There are not wanting, however," he said, "signs of progress in respect to uniformity of laws and regulations which affect mercantile and maritime interests, and an advance towards practical unification in particular directions, such as the law relating to collisions at sea and marine insurance, may be made ere long, and thus some visible fruit toward the good work of the International Law Association and its fellow laborers in the same field."

Continuing, Hon. Sir W. R. Kennedy said: "Having regard to the degree in which equality of civilization, identity of moral standard and community of ideas as to legal rights, exists throughout western Christendom, each member of the family of states should generally presume that right had been done in the judicial proceeding of a sister state. Let us be ready to admit that in regard to the application and legal principle there may be not infrequent, alike in point of abstract reasoning and in point of practical advantage, something to justify a practice which is not our practice; provided always that the litigant parties have been judged by a foreign tribunal of competent international jurists."

MAIN FORCE OF ARMY HAS RETIRED

RUSSIANS REPORTED NORTH OF MUKDEN

The Southern Approach to the City Has Been Mined - The Capture of the Arabia.

London, Sept. 29. - Telegraphing from Newchwang September 29th, the Daily Mail's correspondent says: "The main force of the Russian army has retired to the north of Mukden. Strong bodies of troops have been thrown out to defend the other flanks and the southern approach to the city has been carefully mined. The indications are that no serious attempt will be made to hold Mukden."

THE ARABIA RETURNS FROM VLADIVOSTOK.

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 29. - The Oriental liner Arabia of the Portland-Astoria line arrived in port to-day from Far Eastern ports twenty-four hours late, as a result of bad weather, bringing a full cargo.

Capt. Baile's vessel was captured by the Russian Vladivostok squadron 100 miles north of Yokohama at the time when the cruisers Gromobol, Russia and Burik, under Admiral Jensen, made his famous raid off the Japanese coast. The cruisers Gromobol brought the Arabia to a stop and three officers and forty-two men boarded her. The Arabia was taken to Vladivostok, where several hundred sacks of flour were removed from her hold. The Arabia also had ninety flat cars. The Russians threw the cars into the stream and they were washed ashore along the beach, where they were resting when the liner was finally released.

"We were at Vladivostok for 28 days," said Capt. Baile, "and there met the crews of several captured vessels. The Russian officers showed us every courtesy and, personally, our relations with them could not have been more pleasant. The Russia and Gromobol were at Vladivostok while the Arabia was there. I have heard that the Russians claimed both vessels had been repaired sufficiently to permit them to resume duty, but I do not believe the report. I counted 26 rapping holes in the Russia; all of them were near the water line and were received in battle with Admiral Kamimura's fleet off the Ten Islands August 14th. The cruiser was literally shot full of holes, and I am confident that repairs could not be made in less than several months. The Gromobol was also badly used up. I secured a photo of the Russia, but it disappeared from my cabin. The Burik, one of the vessels that captured us, has been sunk. We left Vladivostok August 28th."

Capt. Baile added that vessels captured by the Russian fleet were sent to Vladivostok and all seemed cheerful. When the successes of the Japanese were referred to, the Russian Englishman, saying the Japanese could not always be successful and that Russia would ultimately win.

At Yokohama the Japanese were celebrating the victory of Ido Yang when the Arabia arrived. Capt. Baile says the Japanese was the most wonderful procession he had ever witnessed.

Perryman was thrown out and his neck broken, causing almost instant death. The horse was killed and the wagon smashed.

The Trans-Atlantic Company, having agreed to make certain concessions, the shipping agents at Marseilles have decided to resume work.

WOMEN IN GERMANY.

The Legal Rights of the Married Ones Defined.

Leon Lyon Caen, in the Seances de l'Academie des Sciences Morales et Politiques, Paris, says: "At the time of the elaboration of the new civil code there was chaos in the matrimonial laws of Germany. The jurists consulted Roth having counted one hundred and twenty different regimes, sixty of them alone in the province of Saxony. The result of the labors of the commission appointed for the purpose has been the codification of the civil law, and it is our intention here to give a short resume of that portion of the code which relates to the rights of married women. It should be stated, however, that the German civil code does not attempt to realize a social revolution and is really inspired by the abstract and complicated doctrines current in German universities. There is no doubt that if a German burgess of average education and intelligence should attempt to read this code he would probably understand none of it, and for that matter the jurists consult themselves have in many instances not been sure of their interpretations."

In general the German married woman is not legally incapable, but her capacity may be limited by certain rights which are given to the husband, rights of a moral nature conferred by the civil code itself in the interest of the household, and rights of a pecuniary nature resulting from the matrimonial regime adopted by the man and wife. The legal regime is founded on the distinction between two sorts of property of the woman, the property "brought" with the woman and the property "acquired" by the husband, the property "brought" by the fact of the marriage, the administration, and the use of the property "brought" by the wife, but he has no such rights over the reserved property. By property "brought" is understood all of the property possessed by the woman at the time of her marriage, which she acquires during the conjugal union, while in the reserved property is comprised all of those things destined to the exclusive use of the woman, all that which she acquires by work or by exploitation of an industry, the property to which the contract of marriage has given this character, the property acquired by testamentary succession or by gifts between living persons, provided always that the donor or testator shall have formally declared that he intends to give to the object of the gift the character of reserved property.

For this portion of her property the woman is considered as separate in law, with reference to the property "brought," while the husband has no use and enjoyment, he can not pledge nor alienate it without the consent of the wife. In return for this enjoyment the husband must support the expenses of the household. Here the law allows the woman great latitude; for example, if she has just grounds to fear that her interests are being compromised she may require sureties. In every case where the husband does not fulfill his obligations of providing for the needs of the household, the woman may demand of the courts that the administration and enjoyment of the "brought" property shall come to an end. By mutual agreement the contracting parties may give the "brought" property of the woman the character of reserved property, or may make any other stipulation they desire.

Alfred, Donna, the fiancé sentenced by Magistrate Williams to spend three years in the penitentiary for robbing August Schwahn, was taken over to New Westminster Wednesday afternoon. The theory that he was connected with the gang of robbers who held up the C. P. R. train is not entertained by the police.

H. Bell-Irving has returned from a trip as far north as Cariboo-Crossing. This winter is settling in much earlier than usual. He said, "and the water in the Yukon river is very low. Navigation is proceeding, but is much handicapped. There is now a great scarcity of big game in the Yukon in the districts near the railways and the lines of travel. The animals have all been shot by prospecting parties and others who are scattered over the country. If any parties go north after big game, they must count on being away several weeks and traveling a long distance."

Julian S. Brown, of Los Angeles, has bought the Lefevre block, Hastings street, for $100,000. It was built fourteen years ago by Dr. Lefevre and sold shortly after for $82,500 to the Boston Realty Company, who are the present vendors.

"Another seizure has been made" by John Murray, timber inspector, consisting of a road donkey engine, a yard donkey engine and a mill and a quarter feet of logs in the water. The outfit was being operated by a man named Pearce, supposedly for the Monarch Mill Company. Mr. Pearce says that the timber was taken from Dominion lands, and is not subject to taxation by the province.

John Ladon, a French-Canadian, who was confined at the police station, suffering from delirium tremens, committed suicide Thursday. He tore off the handle of a water bucket, broke it in half and swallowed it, killing himself. He was a carpenter by trade.

THE ESSENCE OF AUTHORITY.

Character It Is Which Controls Children, Deeds Not Words.

Authority is a free force of the soul, or it is nothing. We do not possess it from the simple fact of being fathers and mothers; it belongs only to those who have made themselves worthy of it. Authority consists in giving by one's attitude, his bearing, all that he does and says, an impression of reality, of verity, of truth in a word, making manifest through his conduct the very laws of life. To order people about, to be loud and peremptory of speech, and to make imperative gestures, may be, after all, but an empty surface demonstration; under these arbitrary aims the insignificance of a petty soul and a vacillating conscience is often hidden. The whole thing is to be somebody, to be worth something, to realize speech in action. Parental authority is not merely a thing of the moment, when advice or direction is given; it is a ceaseless influence of the moral contact, of the actions, of the whole life. Our children see us live, without reflecting on our words, it is what they see of our deeds, untraveled of our motives and intentions, perceive confusedly of our moral standards, that our authority lies. There are parents in lowly life, little apt at formulating rules of conduct or condensing into doctrine the wisdom they display, incapable even of putting into correct speech what they believe to be just and right; parents who have, perhaps, rarely spoken commands or dictated conduct, who, nevertheless, by the simple fact of their faithful, calm and righteous living, have had an extraordinary influence over their children. But every day we see parents, makers of beautiful and excellent phrases and others, astute and perceptive, who yet have had no hold on the consciences of their children. The life is one thing, the sound of it is another, and the child never mistakes the two. Force of character and power of life attract him; some hidden law urges him to follow those who live uprightly.

True authority is the best thing a child can encounter at the beginning of his life. Thus the Scriptures summarize the morality of youth in his one commandment: "Honor thy father and thy mother." - Charles Wagner, "By the Fireside."

BEE STING POISONS.

Remarkable Discovery Made by a Distinguished French Chemist.

M. Phisalix, a distinguished French chemist, has made a discovery about the nature of bee stings that is quite a revelation, and, considering that bees have been carefully studied for thousands of years by most famous naturalist-philosophers from Solomon and Aristotle onward, this is specially interesting. Hitherto the generally accepted theory about the sting of the queen bee has been:

1. That it has been "given" her to protect her hard-earned stores of honey from marauding insects, etc.
2. That the stings work independently and alternately, and are connected at the base with the poison sacs, without whose powerful contents such a tiny weapon would be wholly ineffective.
3. That the poison glands pour an acid secretion (largely formic acid) into the tip of the sting, which the stinger uses to pierce the skin, and the poison is then forced into the wound by the junction of the sheath and the dart.
4. That the formic acid is known to have considerable antiseptic properties.
5. That it is found present in well-preserved honey, but not in freshly gathered nectar.
6. That it has been added by the bees to assist in the preservation of the honey, but how that is accomplished has not yet been demonstrated.

M. Phisalix's researches appear to show that the poison contains three principles - one convulsive, one stupefying, and one which stimulates inflammation. The extraordinary feature of the discovery is that the poison contains two ingredients opposed one to the other. That may account for the fact that fatal cases of bee sting are excessively rare.

MISS NELLIE HOLMES, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N.Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restless sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me. I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and my health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." - Miss NELLIE HOLMES, 540 North Division St., Buffalo, N.Y. - $5000 Reward if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Difficulties Between Company and Machinists Has Been Settled.

A Winnipeg dispatch dated September 28th, says: "The striking C. P. R. machinists, blacksmiths and molders will return to work to-morrow morning, a satisfactory settlement having been arranged between the company and the strikers' committee this evening. It is understood that the men receive an all-round advance, averaging one cent per hour."

A BIG CROWD AT THE EXHIBITION

YESTERDAY'S TOTAL EXCEEDS LAST YEAR'S

Outlook for Financial Success is Exceptionally Bright—Excellent Horse Racing—The Prize List.

The crowd at the exhibition yesterday surpassed the expectations of the most optimistic. It aggregated between six and seven thousand paid admissions, or to be more exact, 6,651. This is greatly in excess of the total for the same day last year, and of course there is a gratifying corresponding increase in the financial outlook. Secretary Swinerton good-naturedly declines to make any prediction, and prefers to wait for the statement before giving out any announcement as to the success of the fair. But there is little doubt that should the conditions of yesterday prevail to the end, there will be a story to tell, vastly different from the sad tale of past years.

The total receipts for the exhibition yesterday were $3,004.30. On the third day last year they were $2,477.90, to which should be added $54.25 for horse race receipts. The grand stand receipts last year were $151.75, so that the total from the wickets at the main grounds alone, irrespective of the grand stand receipts, this year, is considerably greater than the grand aggregate for this day last year. The exhibition committee, however, has rented the grand stand privilege for the present exhibition, so schedule, but the programme generally was so well filled that while regret at its omission was voiced, there was no danger of the time hanging heavily on the crowd in attendance.

THE HORSE RACES.

Good Contests in the Opening Day For the Trials of Speed.

The three days' races in connection with the exhibition opened yesterday. They will be continued today and to-morrow. The races are held as part of the North Pacific Fair Association circuit. At the head of the judges is Robert Leighton, of Seattle, secretary of the circuit. Assisting him are L. W. Paisley, of Chilliwack, and D. R. Ker, of this city. The time-keeper is J. Morris. In the running races, C. A. Harrison acted as starter. In the first race some little trouble was experienced in getting the horses off, the jockeys each seeking to get an advantage. Mr. Harrison was inexorable, and after that there was not so much trouble.

Through a misunderstanding the second heat of the trotting race was somewhat slow in being brought on. The drivers, it was explained, had understood that a running race was to come in between the first and second heats. The instructions of the judges were that the heats were to follow one another without this break. The grand stand became somewhat impatient at the delay, but the filing of the drivers by the judges insured promptness throughout the rest of the day, and will have its effect during the remainder of the races.

With 80 horses here, the majority of them from California, Oregon and Washington, with a fair sprinkling of British Columbia covers, the best competitions are promised in the history of Victoria's track.

Yesterday, of the five races, all but one were running. The exception was the trotting and pacing mile race for the 240 class for a purse of $250.

There were six entries in the trotting and pacing race. These were La Poca, owned by J. C. Morse, of Port Angeles;

Liberal Candidates

The following candidates for election to the House of Commons are in the field with the approval and endorsement of the Liberal party and the Liberal government:

Nanaimo—Ralph Smith.
Comox-Atlin—W. Sloan.
Vancouver City—R. G. Macpherson.
Yale-Cariboo—Duncan Ross.
Kootenay—W. H. Gallihier.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES.

Liberal candidates have been nominated in all the constituencies of British Columbia, save New Westminster and Victoria. If there were any doubts as to the personal strength of W. H. Gallihier and Duncan Ross in Kootenay and Yale-Cariboo, the revival of the mining industry as a result of the special encouragement given by the government would alone be sufficient to assure their triumph on the 3rd of November. But there is no doubt whatever that the candidates are as strong personally as the government they support is popular. R. G. Macpherson has gained in strength in Vancouver. It is not likely that W. Sloan will have any serious opposition in Comox-Atlin.

In Nanaimo Ralph Smith has received the Liberal nomination. Mr. Smith is primarily a Labor candidate; but in order that there should be no mistake as to his standing as a Liberal, his candidature has been specially endorsed by the government. It has been stamped with the distinguished approval of the Prime Minister himself, on account of the many services Mr. Smith has rendered the government in tendering sagacious counsel upon all questions of practical importance to the laboring classes. The department of labor acknowledges its indebtedness to the man who will be the member for Nanaimo for many suggestions which have proved of practical value in the administration of the office and in the enactment of the legislation it desired.

And while Mr. Smith has been active and assiduous in the service of the class he specially represents in the country as a whole, he has not used inactivity by any means to the wants and the necessities of the constituency he specially represents, Vancouver district as it was known, Nanaimo district as it will henceforth be called, has had in the past no reason to complain of the attention that was paid to it by the government or the recommendation of its representative. The public services have all been multiplied and improved. Everything possible has been done to make navigation safe within the waters of this particular section of the coast; public buildings have been enlarged or renewed. In addition to all this, Nanaimo has had a representative of whom she has just reason to be proud. His services have been of the most unselfish kind. There has been no attempt at self-aggrandizement, no thought of self-seeking. One of the ablest debaters in the House, when there is any subject under discussion of more than ordinary importance, Ralph Smith is capable of expressing his views with force and lucidity. Parliament is enlightened and any subject illumined by what he has to say.

Reports from reliable sources indicate the return of the Liberal-Labor candidate by a very large majority. The districts appreciate his services, and are supporting him solidly.

There will be a solid contingent sent from British Columbia to support the Liberal government.

DISSOLUTION AND ELECTION.

This morning the announcement was made to all Canada that the federal Parliament had been dissolved. The election of a new House will be held on November 3rd. The elections of the Dominion have just five weeks in which to consider the record of the Laurier administration and to decide whether the government is worthy of their continued confidence.

The Laurier government has been in power for eight years and a few months. At that it has done is before the people. The severest criticism, of a diligent opposition applied relentlessly and unscrupulously during two Parliamentary terms has been futile in establishing any substantial reason why the rule of one of the cleanest and most business-like administrations that has ever sat in council with the representative of the Sovereign should be deposed from office. Every attempt to besmear the public reputation of the Ministers has ignominiously failed. Members of the opposition, hounding and thirsting for power, have allied themselves with foreigners of the baser sort and have availed themselves of the peculiar genius of this disreputable class in the hope of fastening upon Ministers of the Crown the stigma of dishonorable conduct in connection with the workings of public departments. In every instance the result has been the same: confusion to the accusers and their confounders.

In the pre-election frenzy, that is sure to follow the conviction that there is not the slightest hope of defeating the government, the people may expect a strong revival of the reckless charges of corruption and general political wrongdoing. But through the mists of misrepresentation the record of the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will continue to shine forth clear and untarnished.

The confidence of the people in the honesty of an administration of impeccable virtue, supplemented by the unquestionable prosperity the country has enjoyed during the eight years of Liberal rule, will be a sufficient reason for the continuation of the present successful regime. The surrounding nations during those eight memorable years in the history of Canada have experimented with fiscal legislation of various degrees. The United States, on our border, has gone to one extremity of the scale. Great Britain has steadfastly remained at the other. There are states on the continent of Europe that have been content with intermediate positions. In all the category there is not one that has enjoyed such material prosperity as Canada has under the Laurier administration. The opposition has its ideals of "adequate protection," and of "preference for preference," but it is not given to the mind of man to conceive of anything in the fiscal scheme that could by any possibility improve the condition of this country. Our farmers have gone from one stage of prosperity to higher stages of prosperity. The culminating point will be reached during this and the coming year. Our factories have been running night and day. The one real grievance of the manufacturers appears to be a shortage of men. The commercial and trading classes are enlarging the boundaries of their operations. Our working men have had steady employment at good wages. Poverty there is in the world. Distress there is everywhere, inevitable and unavoidable. But in Canada more than anywhere else on the face of the earth such evils are due to the shortcomings of the inherited incapacity of the individual.

The opposition will, of course, claim that the enviable condition of Canada to-day is not due to the liberal policy of the Laurier government. Mr. Borden and his friends will assert that Canada cannot be kept back. That in the natural course of events she must march forward. It is hard for them to believe that the sins and shortcomings and failures of this same opposition when it was in office must not be referred to. The dead National Policy was a full fiscal brother to the new-born phantom, "Adequate Protection." For eighteen years Canada stood still, in many respects retrograde, under the National Policy. And yet to-day the people are asked to discard the policy under which such unexampled progress is admitted by Conservatives as frankly as by Liberals and to venture upon such another disastrous experiment as the N. P.

The clean record of a business administration applied to a prosperous and hopeful country should be enough to ensure a continuation of the Laurier regime.

But the Laurier government is as hopeful for the future as it has been successful in the past in the promotion of an era of unexampled prosperity. It has prepared the way for the day of expansion that is dawning. Armies of immigrants are being attracted to the fertile lands of Canada. Additional means of transportation are absolutely necessary. Accessibility is the prime necessity in the case of the lone lands of all our northern regions. Another transcontinental railway line has been contracted for upon such liberal terms as were never dreamt of by the opposition that is in such a critical mood to-day. When the "habit of opposition" had asserted itself various excuses were put forward in justification of a course of pure partisan criticism. The first plea was that there was no necessity for such a road as the Grand Trunk Pacific. The C. P. R. and the C. N. R. were quite able to meet all the requirements of the new settlers. When the fact became apparent that the country as a whole warmly commended the proposition, Mr. Borden switched and advocated the continuation of the old Grand Trunk line from North Bay, Ontario, to the prairies. Some of his lieutenants took strong ground on the construction of a hundred million dollar canal and an all water route as the most feasible and most effective scheme. After much wandering, the opposition leader has settled down upon an "experiment" in government construction and operation of railways. Mr. Borden is no more sincere in his belief in the feasibility and practicability of government ownership and construction than is our friend Senator Macdonald. His attitude is that of an opportunist, and the best proof of our assertion is the fact that the principal newspaper organs of the opposition treat his proposal with disdainful silence. The floundering of the leader of the opposition and his final extraordinary and unexpected proposal have lost for him the confidence of the class which in the past has been the backbone of the Conservative party. That one mountebank has, leaving out of consideration the record of the Liberal party and the personality of its leader, would have spoiled his chances of victory.

The Liberal party will enter upon this campaign in the humor of complete confidence in the result. Its brilliant leader is as strong in the country as at any time in his remarkable career. His government leaves a clean record behind it. It is leading the people into a hopeful future, confident that the fruits will fully justify the liberal provision that has been made for a great harvest.

The Colonist's Ottawa correspondent has hitherto been chiefly notorious for his recklessness and absolute untrustworthiness. "Now he is evidently aiming to achieve notoriety as a humorist. To-day he says it is considered that it would be inadvisable for Lord Minto to leave the capital until the result of the general elections is known. "An extraordinary condition of affairs would be created if, after the defeat of the present government, which seems to be a certainty, there were no representative of the sovereign to call upon Mr. Borden to form a government." That is fine if it is ironical. Mr. Borden, poor man, is never likely to form a government. After the 3rd of November, the Tory cabal which is working against him will urge his want of success as a reason why he should resign the leadership of the party.

ARE COSTS EXCESSIVE?

To the Editors—I wish, through your columns, to call attention to the scale of fees at present in force in the Small Debts court of the city. I can hardly believe that the commercial community is actuated by vindictive feelings toward the small debtor, who is more often unable than unwilling to pay. Yet, the course pursued looks extremely like it. Given an enterprising debt collector, who is a professional hunter of such financial small game, and the process of the court once started, the fees and costs are rolled up unmercifully, the poor debtor and those dependant on him becoming the victims of what is no less than legalized robbery. Let me give a case in point. A summons was issued in the Small Debts court on the 31st August to pay an old balance of $8.40; to this was added "cost of plaint, $2," in itself an excessive addition to such a debt. Then, having obtained time to pay and not having paid, a judgment summons was issued on the 21st September with an additional "cost of summons, $1.50," making, in less than a month, $3.50 added to a debt of $8.40—an enormous percentage. The question is, does the commercial community of this city desire this state of things to continue? If they do, the sooner it is understood by the general public the better. Change from good to comparative poor circumstances may happen to any man. But suppose he is bombarded with plaints all bearing costs and fees, such as I have indicated. Is such a state of things in line with the love of fair play, which is supposed to be inherent in every Britisher? The Small Debts courts in England, recognizing the frequent oppression of the small debtor by the alert debt collector and others, have stopped all this sort of thing, and give the unfortunate man a breathing time where there is an evident desire to pay. Does Victoria desire to do any less?

WERE APAM AND EVE COLORED?

London Chronicle.
An American negro now in London (writes a correspondent) gives a curious description of the origin of the colored race. He does not state that Adam and Eve were white. Indeed, all people had dark skins until Abraham jumped into a pool of clear water one day. The darkness of his skin was removed by a miracle, and he emerged a white man. Others near him followed his example, with similar results, until the water gradually became brown. The people who then bathed became what are known now as Japanese and Chinese. Some lazy sitters were then about to jump into the water when Abraham ordered the caravan to move on, and to this day they have remained black.

TOO MUCH TOBACCO.

London Globe.
A correspondent wishes to know what constitutes the excessive use of tobacco. It sounds a very simple question, but it is, nevertheless, distinctly hard to answer. In the case of alcohol it is easy to define the point where excess begins. But there is this difference, as the writer points out, between the abuse of alcohol and the abuse of tobacco, that a man often drinks to excess because the more he takes the more he wants; the sensation becoming more attractive with every glass. With tobacco, on the other hand, the effects of a pipe to many are so painful to the tongue and so unpleasant generally that the smoker stops as a rule just before that point. The smoker thinks he is smoking to excess when he smokes the process physically unpleasant. He smokes more deeply into the matter. Like most other affairs of health, the matter resolves itself, probably, into a question of how much each individual constitution can endure. What would be excessive in one man is harmless in another. These things are best left to common sense. There is, however, one last which is as nearly as

DO YOU LIKE FIGURES?

Here Are Facts Dealing With the Life of the British Nation.

The London Daily Express gives the following summary of a blue book of 300 pages, entitled "Statistical Abstract of the United Kingdom," and which, dealing with the life of the British nation for the past fifteen years:

"During that time the national revenue has increased from 80 millions to 141 millions, but the expenditure, unfortunately, has grown to an even greater extent, from 80 millions to 147 millions.

"The national debt, which fifteen years ago was 688½ millions, fell steadily to 628 millions in 1903-4. Then the South African war began to affect it, and it had risen last year to 762½ millions.

"The amount of income on which income tax was received has increased from 537 millions to 666½ millions, and the produce for each penny of tax from £2,288,139 to £2,535,562. A remarkable feature of the returns is the sudden fall in the rate of increase of profits from business concerns, professions, and employments, known as schedule D. From 1900-1 to 1901-2 the income tax returns under this head increased by twenty-one millions, while from 1901-2 to 1902-3 the increase was only four millions.

"Last year estate duty was paid on 62,106 properties of the total value of 254 millions, including seven estates worth over a million each. The net value of property on which probate and succession duties were paid was 211 millions.

"The extent of the nation's thirst may be gathered from the fact that last year thirty-five and a half million bottles of beer were made, which means, roughly, a barrel of beer and a gallon of spirits for every man, woman and child.

lion pounds worth of silver changed hands. "Our huge mercantile marine is made up of 16,320 sailing vessels and 10,122 steam vessels, with a total gross tonnage of 15,778,062, and they employ over 257,000 men, including foreigners.

"The cultivated area of the United Kingdom is nearly forty-eight million acres, and there are in the country two million horses, eleven and a half million cattle, twenty-five and a half million sheep, and four million pigs. The value of the sea fisheries last year, excluding salmon and shell fish, was nine million pounds, and the total catch nearly thirteen million hundredweight.

"The 22,433 miles of railway carried 1,195,205,195 passengers and 443,667,947 tons of goods and minerals. The total receipts were nearly 111 millions, and the working expenditures sixty-eight and a half millions. Though there were only 1,772 miles of tramways open, they carried 1,081,948,655 passengers—considerably more than were carried by the railways.

"We are now mining over 230 million tons of coal a year, valued at eighty-eight million pounds, while the total value of all minerals produced was 122½ millions in 1902.

"The number of registered companies in 1902, with a paid-up capital of 1,849 millions. In the Post Office Savings Bank the deposits amount to nearly 131 millions, and last year nearly forty millions were received and thirty-nine millions paid. The deposits in the Bank of England amounted to forty-six millions in December last, and the bank notes held in reserve amounted in value to sixteen millions.

"The total strength of the regular army is 301,191 officers and men, of whom 138,846 are at home and 162,345 abroad. To police England and Wales requires 46,064 men.

"There were over a million paupers in receipt of relief last year, 13,000 criminals were convicted, 4,243 persons adjudicated bankrupts and eighty-three orders made to wind up companies in England and Wales.

"In 1902 684 crew and 687 passengers lost their lives at sea."

DISRAELI.

The Guiding Spirit of a Great Statesman's Career.

Now, twenty-three years after his death, Disraeli is not yet properly understood, and there are still many who do not realize that, in the truest conception of life, he lived for others. No matter how thorny the path of duty, from that he never shrunk, and his sublime indifference to wealth was no less remarkable when one considers the tendency of his race in that direction. There seemed no limit to the baseless insinuations and calumnies that ever arose on all sides—with believers many; and, however much his feelings must have suffered in consequence, his noble bearing under such circumstances stands out in bold monumental relief, as a great triumph of the ascendancy of the spirit of Disraeli was ambitious. It is true, but only for humanity's sake, and not as the world interprets the meaning of that word. His early struggles were great—far greater than any biography of him has yet disclosed; and the patient spirit in which he bore them, with that buoyancy of manner so familiar to all who knew him, was the means of imbuing him with the belief that he was destined by Providence to perform the highest duties of state. Oft did he try to disillusion his mind of the belief, and as often did he realize that he had no alternative. Try as he would he could not escape the thought, and once having realized what destiny had in store for him, he never looked back.

Although it was that belief which gave him the self-confidence he possessed, the guiding spirit of his career was "faith," not in himself, nor in man, but in God. He believed that he was divinely inspired in his thoughts, and that he was merely the chosen tool to give them utterance. It was this sublime belief in "faith" wherein his true courage lay, and enabled him to view life from the highest standpoint. And, when one recalls the great admiration that the noblest of Queens openly confessed towards this genius, exalted only, perhaps, by the life-long devotion of his wife, alike with that of the members of his family, one can only surmise that "faith" has played a remarkable part in the civilization of the world. Perhaps it was this instinctive feeling that prompted Mr. Gladstone—when moving the nation's confidence in parliament at his death—to say, "that he could wish for nothing better—had he his life to live over—than follow in the footsteps of the great departed statesman." Surely if ever a statesman deserved well of his country that statesman was Disraeli.

"MOONLIGHT PANTHERS."

Russian Officer's Story Regarding the Daring Japanese Scouts.

The Moscow correspondent of the London Daily News writes: "Letters from the front state that the Japanese owe much of their success to a trained corps of scouts who, with extraordinary daring, visit the Russian camps at night and ascertain the position of their guns and fortifications."

"During the outpost fighting which followed the battle of Wu-fang-tien," writes Artillery Lieut. Pozdanyuk, "we were worried to death by these so-called 'moonlight panthers.' They never used firearms, but depended upon their bagpipes, whistles, and sometimes merely upon their 'supernaturally' muscular hands. Dozens of sentries were stabbed or garroted at night by these little yellow devils. One sentry who escaped said that he saw three forms creeping forward in the darkness, and that though he challenged and fired, it had no effect, for they seemed to disappear. Ten minutes later something sprang out of the ground and leaped upon his back, and down he went with a paralyzed feeling in his spine, and as he expressed it, 'a hundred hony knuckles knocking at my throat.' Being a heavy man, he succeeded, after a desperate struggle, in rolling over the Jap and pinning him with his bayonet to the earth. Two other Japs then jumped out of the ground and ran off into the darkness."

THE SHAM BATTLE WILL BE REPEATED

A BIG FEATURE AT THE FAIR TO-MORROW

Will Undoubtedly Attract Large Crowd
—Lieut. Governor Visits Exhibition
—School Children's Sports.

The public will be pleased to learn that the sham battle which was so ably conducted by the naval and military forces on Wednesday afternoon at the exhibition grounds will be repeated to-morrow afternoon. It proved such a fine feature when first given that the fair authorities decided to make an earnest effort to have another one, and the commanding officers of the two arms have kindly given their consent.

This afternoon the second series of horse racing is in progress, while the other attractions according to programme are taking place. This evening the Brentons will give their long-delayed aerial bicycle exhibition. A feature of the programme will be the tug-of-war for the Players Challenge cup. This should arouse the greatest interest and excitement. Then there will be the miners' drilling contest, which will prove one of the most novel and interesting features of the fair. The music this afternoon and evening will be provided by the Nanaimo Silver Cornet band.

The Times has been requested to announce that there will be a grand tombola conducted at the exhibition to-morrow night, when 350 prizes, covering a wide assortment of articles, will be given. Every person entering the grounds will receive a ticket. Further particulars will appear in these columns to-morrow. This morning the exhibition was graced by the presence of His Honor the Lieut. Governor, who, accompanied by Secretary Swinerton, inspected the various displays. He was greatly impressed with the excellence of the exhibits, especially the commercial fruit display, for which he has decided to offer an award of $15 to the first prize winner and $10 for the second.

To-morrow will be "American Day." The main features will be the sham battle, as already mentioned, the horse racing, the miners' drilling contest, the side attractions, which have been in progress throughout the week, and the tombola. Secretary Elworthy, of the board of trade, has received the following explanatory letter from Secretary Swinerton, of the Agricultural Association executive:

Dear Sir:—I am instructed by the executive of the exhibition to write you in order to attract the attention of your board to the very fine commercial exhibit of fruit which has been displayed this year at the exhibition; as the executive feel the Board of Trade cannot attach too much importance to a display of this kind, which proves beyond doubt that fruit can be raised and packed in such a way around Victoria, to demonstrate the fact that we have a large industry right at our doors which only needs encouragement and development. I might add that all the fruit displayed in the commercial exhibit on the ground floor has been grown within five miles of the city of Victoria; fact that every citizen should be proud of.

Yours faithfully,
ROBT. H. SWINERTON, Secretary.

An error crept into the prize list yesterday. Jas. J. Blund should be credited with receiving first prize for his superb collection (18 varieties) of sweet peas. Mr. Blund has certainly a very handsome display.

The exhibit of paper boxes by Hibben & Co., to which brief mention was made in the Times on Wednesday, is well worth inspection. The goods displayed are of a superior class, the style and finish being excellent. The public will be interested to learn that this firm supplies all the boxes used in Victoria, and many outside points.

SCHOOL COMPETITIONS
Witnessed By Large Number at Exhibition This Morning—Good Races.

Crowds thronged the grounds adjoining the exhibition buildings this morning, the attraction being the children's sports. These commenced at about 10 o'clock. The South Park, Central, North Ward, Victoria West and Spring Ridge schools having representatives present to take part in the various competitions. Besides the medals offered the winners in each of the events, every first and second counted three and two points respectively to the schools represented by the victors. These will be tallied, and when the long jump competitions are decided, the institution obtaining the largest number of points will be presented with the Swinerton cup, a trophy given by the secretary of the association.

For the greater part of the forenoon the South Park boys took the lead, followed closely by the Central school athletes. When the vaulting was reached the former boys were ahead, the score being about 20 points to 24. From this on, however, the Central school commenced to gain, winning the relay race and the ball throwing competition. This put the Centrals in first place, the standing being as follows: Central, 28; South Park, 26; North Ward, 11; Victoria West, 6.

Probably the most exciting of this morning's events was the jumping competition, open to any pupil attending his respective schools. The principal contestants were Guy Morley, Central school; Herbert Thompson and W. Kennedy, of South Park, and M. Seabrook, of North Ward. These four stayed with the jump until it had reached 4 feet 6 inches, when the latter two missed their three tries and left Messrs. Morley and Thompson to decide the question of supremacy. Both struck the bar in the first jump, but in the second Morley cleared in grand style, the feat being loudly cheered. Thompson tried again, but was unsuccessful.

In the jumping contest for boys under 14 years, there were no less than ten competitors. The number gradually thinned down, however, until there were only three left—Messrs. Pauline, Greig and Catterall. They all failed to clear the bar when it was raised for the first time, and the contest was therefore declared a tie, each school represented being credited with two points.

It was the relay race which attracted the most attention. Teams were entered from the South Park, North Ward and Central schools as follows: South Park, Messrs. Thompson, Briggs, Ellice and Kennedy; North Ward, Messrs. Auld, Morrison, Seabrook and Cox; Central, Morley, Bergman, Roberts and Nesbitt. This was very interesting, although it resulted in a comparatively easy victory for the Central school team. The last three runners crossed the line in a procession, Morley, of the Central, leading, with North Ward and South Park following, equal distances separating them.

All the 100 yards and 220 yards races were even, and some of those for boys under 10 years of age were specially well contested.

A list of the results follows:
No. 1—One hundred yards, dash (open)—1, Guy Morley, Central school; 2, W. Cox, North Ward school; 3, Herbert Thompson, South Park.
No. 2—One hundred yards, dash (boys under 14 years)—1, W. Meyer, South Park; 2, P. Heaton, North Ward; 3, disputed by Messrs. Pauline and Elworthy, of Collegiate and South Park schools.
No. 3—One hundred yards, dash (boys under 12)—1, Clifford Carrol, Victoria West; 2, Matthew Scott, South Park; 3, C. Baker, Central.

No. 4—One hundred yards, dash (under 10 years)—1, Guy Carrol, Central; 2, Archibald Macdonald, Central; 3, J. Belford, South Park.

No. 5—One hundred yards, dash (under 8 years)—1, Allan Danks, Central; 2, James Pettigrew, South Park; 3, Chas. French, North Ward.

No. 6—Two hundred and twenty yards, dash (open)—1, Guy Morley, Central; 2, Herbert Thompson, South Park; 3, W. Cox, North Ward.

No. 7—Two hundred and twenty yards, dash (under 14 years)—1, W. Meyer, South Park; 2, P. Heaton, North Ward; 3, P. B. Elworthy, South Park.

No. 8—Two hundred and twenty yards, dash (under 12 years)—1, Clifford Carrol, Victoria West; 2, Matthew Scott, South Park; 3, Guy Carrol, Central.

No. 9—Two hundred and twenty yards, dash (under 10)—1, Ed. McR. Smith, South Park; 2, Harry Walton, Central; 3, Jack Belford, South Park.

ST. ANN'S ACADEMY EXHIBIT.
An Attractive Nook at the Exhibition Building.
Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather on Tuesday and Wednesday, visitors thronged to the exhibition grounds, eager to get a sight of the novel and interesting things to be seen on the premises. One particularly attractive and artistic corner, the St. Ann's Academy booth, drew an appreciative crowd, who were lavish in their praises of the work exhibited. It covers five special departments: An educational and art exhibit, fancy work, musical and commercial work. The educational part, from primary to senior class work, runs over literature and rhetoric, mathematics, physics, astronomy and botany, map drawing, bookkeeping, German, French and Latin, nature lessons, free-hand drawing, all the pupils' work, and done with a skill that reflects the greatest credit on teachers and scholars.

Specialty fine charts are those on geometry, astronomy and botany, while the ready and accurate writing matter and business and social correspondence, certainly speak volumes for the literary and epistolary training given at St. Ann's. All would do well to take a look at the work. Music charts showed matter from junior, intermediate and senior grades, the "Book of Honor" giving samples of original compositions by the students of difficult pieces, as also studies on musical authors. Looking over this, one leaves with the impression of the thoroughness of the course in this art, and of the interest of the pupils in their work.

Passing on to the art booth may be viewed some of the finest oil paintings and water colors, the work of the Sisters lately returned from Eastern studios. The judges here, and the public in general, passed the highest encomiums on the work. Murillo's "Assumption," rendered with a faultless expression, as testified to by connoisseurs, is a special centre of attraction, one gentleman stating that he would give four hundred pounds for the painting. Other charming pictures from still life complete one side of the display, the students' work on the opposite receiving some first prizes.

Elegant specimens of China painting by the teacher also form a part of the exhibit, the pupils' fancy work offering a pretty variety, ranging, as it does, from the work of seven-year-old tots to young ladies.

The judges of the commercial department expressed themselves well pleased with the matter there exhibited. A new and attractive feature, is the fancy type writing, few having ever seen so novel a use of the typewriter. The pictures of local buildings made on the machine prove a delightful surprise to most visitors, and draw forth considerable praise. Besides this pleasing display, there is much practical typewriting, also an outline of the course taught. Everything connected with the exhibit bespeaks careful teaching, an excellent course, and hard work on the part of the young lady students whose names appear on the work.

On the whole, the St. Ann's Academy deserves much credit for this comprehensive exhibit.

PERSONAL.
S. G. Sloane, of Charles City, Iowa, is in the city. He is interested in the town Littleport Gold Mining Company, which recently installed a dredge on the Fraser river, valued at over one hundred thousand dollars. Mr. Sloane was present when the first test was made, and said that in two or three hours $500 was cleared. In view of this showing, he considered the prospects exceptionally bright. This is Mr. Sloane's first visit to the Coast, and he is much impressed with the wonderful resources of British Columbia. "You haven't everything," he remarked, "but what you have is the best to be obtained." Mr. Sloane has obtained several splendid specimens of fruit grown in the interior, among which is an apple weighing over 22 ounces. He is connected with a prominent newspaper of Charles City and intends "writing up" an account of his travels through Western Canada on his return. While in the city Mr. Sloane is a guest of Steve Jones, at the Dominion.

Crowds are arriving every day from the Sound and Mainland points attracted by the cheap rates offered by the different transportation companies and the fair now in progress. Hotel proprietors report that all available accommodation was taken up last evening. The Dominion had to turn away many visitors, and it was the same with most of the other prominent hotels.

The many friends of Supt. Hussey will be glad to learn that he has sufficiently recovered his health to enable him to resume his duties. In this connection it is worth noting that the climate of Victoria accomplished for Mr. Hussey what the climate of California could not do.

A. G. Wilson and H. H. Scovel, of San Francisco; Julian Kuttaw, of New York; W. E. Craig, of Los Angeles; and Thos. Doyle, of Tacoma, are in the city. They are among the guests at the Oriard hotel.

A. Morrison and wife, and F. C. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards, of Seattle, are in the city. They arrived yesterday for the purpose of visiting the exhibition, and are among the guests at the Dominion hotel.

Capt. J. W. Troup, superintendent of the C. P. R. Coast steamers, and Mrs. Troup, left on Wednesday for the East on a month's holiday trip, in the course of which they will visit the World's Fair.

Oswar Morse and Mrs. Morse, and Capt. A. W. Horn and Mrs. Horn, of Port Angeles, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Dominion.

Mrs. B. M. Lehmann, who has been visiting in Tacoma, came over this morning, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. C. L. Lehmann.

Dr. S. G. Clemence leaves to-morrow morning for Vancouver to attend the provincial dental convention.

Mrs. F. S. Lewis, Mrs. L. Perry, Mrs. K. Y. Church, of Port Angeles, are at the Dominion hotel.

H. N. Rich, of Ladner, and C. M. O'Brien, of Vancouver, are among those registered at the Vernon.

HOW CHAMPAGNE IS MADE.
The larger firms of champagne makers at Rheims use only the juice from the first pressing of the grape for champagne, leaving the second and third pressings for inferior wine, or, as it is called, vin de suite. The juice is taken in barrels to the cellars and poured into larger vats; one of the vats holding as much as eight hundred gallons.

The wine remains in these vats from October until January, when the maturing takes place. This is somewhat of a state secret in each establishment, as each wine-master has his own method for producing from wine of different vintages the flavors for which his particular brands are famous. This mixture is called the cuvee, and it stands again until April or June, when the great operation of sifting the bottles takes place.

This is done on bottling, or tirage, is a great sight. The raptury with which it is accomplished by the many workmen in marvelous. There are thousands of bottles which first of all must be tested, and then well cleaned. This latter process is done by machines. Then the long pipes are extended to the bottles from the mighty vats that hold the cuvee, and as the bottles are filled, cooled and wired they are lowered in baskets, by a system of endless chains, to the caves below, where they are stacked in precise order in a very compact and solid mass, yet so that each separate one may be taken out without disturbing the others. These bottles are now left from one to two years, when they are put in small racks necks downward, and for two or three months each bottle is given daily a gentle little shake by an experienced workman. In this way the sediment is brought gradually to the cork, and the wine becomes perfectly clear. One man can shake about thirty thousand bottles in a day. It seems a hopeless task, yet it is all accomplished with great system and ease. In some of the caves the men are allowed to use both hands in shaking bottles; but it is usual for the workman to use one hand only, and the result is supposed to be better.

Then comes the disgorgement, or removal of the sediment. By some firms an ingenious system of freezing the neck of the bottle is used to accomplish this, and the sediment is taken out in a solid frozen mass. By many others, when the bottles are opened, a most skillful manner of pressing the thumb over the open mouth, letting the sediment out and losing very little of the wine, is the usual method. This requires very great care, as no deposit must be left and as little wine as possible lost. The men who perform this work receive three to four dollars per day, in some cases Magazine.

THE MACHINERY PAVILION.

Good All-Round Display—Some of the Features.

The machinery display shed in the rear of the main building was a strong attraction to the mechanically inclined yesterday. There is really a fine display in this line, well-known local firms having arranged their goods to the very best advantage. For instance there is a good showing by Robeson & Collis, while E. G. Prior & Co. are represented by a good display. Special attention is directed to the showing of vehicles by John Weston & Co. Mr. Weston has been an exhibitor at local shows for years, and has established a reputation for the excellence of the stock displayed.

But there is one exhibit in the pavilion which attracts more attention, perhaps, than any individual article in this part of the show. It is a handsome automobile designed and built by Mr. Hutchison, the city electrician. Mr. Hutchison has not only produced a machine of fine proportions and appearance, but in its construction has brought into play that inventive faculty which he possesses to a marked degree. For instance, all the mechanism is controlled by one contrivance, conveniently located at his right hand. This economizes space and simplifies the operation of the machine. There is another convenience. Provision has been made to run the automobile by kerosene should the gasoline supply become exhausted. If Mr. Hutchison should ever find himself out of his regular fuel he merely has to charge up with kerosene and continue merrily on his way.

The body of the machine was built at Mable's carriage factory.

Robert Hutchison has on exhibition one of the well-known Truscott engines, with which many a steam launch in these waters is equipped. The exterior parts have been removed so that the bystander may become initiated into the workings of the interior. Mr. Hutchison is always on hand to explain the mysteries of the magic power that moves the machine, and other features about it, to the lay mind.

SPORTING ITEMS.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.
ANNUAL MEETING.
To-morrow evening the annual meeting of the British Columbia Football Association will be held at Nanaimo. Delegates will attend from the Victoria United and Garrison teams. The Navy has decided not to enter an eleven. There is some talk of a Cumberland team taking part in the senior league. If this arrangement is made it will add considerably to the interest in the competition and assure the success of the series.

As already mentioned in these columns, Rev. W. W. Bolton and T. G. Wilson will not act as delegates from the local eleven at to-morrow's meeting, while Sergt. Paley and Corp. Ryndekle will represent the Garrison. Business of exceptional importance is expected to be transacted.

LACROSSE.
CANNOT AGREE.
A Vancouver dispatch says: "The Westminster Lacrosse Club has refused to accept an offer of the Brockton Point Association regarding the games to be played here with the Winnipeg team during the fair. The Winnipeg team has been wired for and will play two matches in Vancouver next week during the fair."

In an account of a meeting on Wednesday night between delegations from New Westminster and Vancouver to discuss the matter, the Vancouver News-Advertiser says: "At the meeting of the Brockton Point board, it was decided that by noon on Thursday an assurance must come from New Westminster that the lacrosse team from there shall play a game at Brockton Point on Saturday, October 15th, the whole of the proceeds to go to Vancouver, in consideration of their cancelling the engagements with the Shamrocks, of Winnipeg. This was decided upon unanimously."

Success is certain where an article is good.

consideration of their cancelling the engagements with the Shamrocks, of Winnipeg. This was decided upon unanimously."

"After Campbell-Sweeney had stated the object of the meeting, H. C. Clarke reported the committee's action in going to New Westminster on Wednesday and laying the matter before those interested there."

"The answer to Vancouver's proposition was that as the whole programme of sports for the week had been settled and the contracts signed, it was resolved that the B. A. & L. Society regretted its inability to meet the present suggestion of the B. P. A. A. A. and alter the arrangement."

"Major Keary made the proposition that if the B. P. A. A. A. would undertake the management of the Vancouver Lacrosse Club, he would undertake to have a lacrosse club for next year in the league, and there would be more playing and less technicalities."

"After an informal five minutes' discussion, it was moved: That the New Westminster Lacrosse Club return on Thursday evening with a representation from the Lacrosse Club to consider the proposition that the New Westminster Lacrosse Club play at Brockton Point one week after the fair with the Vancouver Lacrosse Club, the whole of the proceeds to go to Vancouver in consideration of the calling off of the game with the Shamrocks, and that the New Westminster team re-enter the Association at once."

As mentioned in the dispatch above, this motion has been considered by members of the New Westminster Lacrosse Club who have declined to agree to Vancouver's proposal.

MATCH POSTPONED.
The match announced to be played to-morrow morning between Victoria and Vancouver has been postponed, owing to the fact that the latter team has been unable to get together a team. As this was to have been the final of the league series, the game will probably be arranged to take place some time early next month.

SYNOPSIS OF REGULATIONS FOR THE MINING OF MINERALS ON DOMINION LANDS IN MANITOBA, THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORIES AND THE YUKON TERRITORY.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miners' certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.
A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company, according to the capital.
A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,500x1,500 feet by marking out the same with two corner posts, bearing location notices, one at each end on the line of the lode or vein.
The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for every additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.
At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 100 acres.

The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of a Royalty of 2 1/2 per cent. of the sales of the products of the location.

Placer Mining.—Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5, renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan River claims are either bar or bench, the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 1,000 feet. Where steam power is used, claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the N. W. T., excepting the Yukon Territory.—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.
The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars of the river below low water mark, and subject to the right of persons who have, or who may receive, entries for bar diggings or bench claims, except on the Saskatchewan River, where the lessee may dredge for placer claims on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental is $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of two and a half per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory.—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.
The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from the date of the lease. Rental is $10 per mile for first year and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty, 2 1/2 per cent.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.
The discoverer of a claim is entitled to a claim of 1,000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two, 1,500 feet altogether, on the output of which no royalty shall be charged, the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee, $10. Royalty at the rate of two and one-half per cent. on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory to be paid to the Comptroller.
No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may staking claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned, and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee.

Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.
A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year; if not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notice in the Yukon Official Gazette.

Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well, will be sold to the prospector at the rate of $1 an acre, and the remainder of the tract reserved, namely, 1,280 acres, will be sold at the rate of $3 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by Order in Council.

STRUCK DOWN.

Death After an Accusation—A Dramatic Tragedy.

Dr. Wynn Westcott held an inquest at St. Luke's, London, concerning the death of John Daly, 67, a tailor.

Ann Daly, the widow, deposed that her husband had a brother who was paralyzed. As he was unable to help himself she used to go to his house to wash and feed him. While she and her husband were working on the same tailor's board, on which she had sat for 33 years, her husband made a charge concerning his brother. He had no money, and the words that he fell unconscious into her arms. "I thought the hand of God had struck him," she continued, "but I said, 'God forgive you, so do I,' and took him into the bedroom." A doctor was summoned, but her husband remained unconscious, and died the same evening.

The coroner—"You thought he was struck as a punishment?" witness—"I am afraid so."

The coroner—"What was it he said?" witness—"I can't tell you."

A neighbor stated that she had heard the deceased and his wife quarrelling for the past two months.

The coroner—"What about?" witness—"I don't know."

The coroner—"Thirteen men are not going to sit here and believe you heard them quarrelling for two months and don't know what about."

Dr. Isaac Dorman, who was called, stated that he found the man unconscious. He was told that he had been quarrelling with his wife, and that he suddenly became unconscious. The wife said he was struck on account of what he said, and added that he was angry and excited and jealous of his brother.

The coroner—"The wife chooses to think he was struck on account of that. If there is any comfort in it she must have it."

Dr. Dorman added that the autopsy showed that death was due to apoplexy.

The coroner—"You think sudden excitement might cause it?" witness—"Undoubtedly."

The coroner—"In olden days I suppose it would have been called the 'act of God,' striking him down speechless because he was telling what the widow says was a lie."

The jury returned a verdict of death from apoplexy, caused by excitement when quarrelling with his wife.

The anniversary of the death of Emilia Zola, who died on September 29th, 1902, was commemorated on Thursday by a large party of authors and artists visiting his former home at Medin, where addresses in his honor were delivered.

ENFORCING FINES AGAINST STEAMERS

DEPARTMENT UPHOLD ACTING COLLECTOR

Cottage City and Humboldt Will Pay for Violating Coasting Regulations—Shipping Notes.

The customs department has upheld the decision of Acting Collector Newbury of this city, in his contention that Menzies harbor, north of Comox, was not to be construed as contiguous waters under the Reciprocal Wrecking Regulations of 1880.

It will be remembered that Mr. Newbury inflicted a fine upon the United States steamers Cottage City and Humboldt for towing the steamer Alki, also a United States craft, off the sand bar at Menzies harbor. The Alki was resting on the sand at the time without any danger to the steamer. The Canadian steamer Princess May and Tens passed her, but were informed that there was no need of any assistance being rendered. The United States vessels followed later, and towed the Alki off. Mr. Newbury held that this was a violation of the coasting regulations, inasmuch as United States vessels were towing in Canadian waters.

The owners of the vessels had the matter referred to Ottawa. The contention was raised that this came under the Reciprocal Wrecking Regulations, which allowed of vessels of either nation carrying on wrecking operations without reporting the same. This rule is distinctly specified to pertain only to what are known as contiguous waters. The question was one, therefore, of the interpretation of this term, contiguous waters. Mr. Newbury takes the ground that waters such as the Straits of San Juan or the Great Lakes, which touch the territory of both nations, should have this term applied to them. The Straits of Georgia, in the neighborhood of Comox, he could not believe could be construed as contiguous waters, but were Canadian waters.

The customs department at Ottawa have, upon the appeal being taken to them, decided in favor of Mr. Newbury's contention, and enforce it, although reducing the amount of the fine from $400 for each of the vessels to $200 each.

The collector's contention as to what is to be interpreted as contiguous waters has been fully upheld in this instance, however.

CONTRABAND OF WAR.

With respect to belligerent warships coaling in British ports the secretary of state for the colonies has issued instructions to Lord Minto for the guidance of the colonies. This appears in the present issue of the Provincial Gazette. It reads as follows:

"My telegram of February 10th rules for observance of neutrality published in London Gazette February 11th lay down in rule 3 to what extent coal might be supplied to belligerent warships in British ports during the present war. It must be borne in mind that reason for practice of admitting belligerent ships of war into neutral ports arises out of exigencies of life at sea and the hospitality which it is customary to extend to vessels of friendly powers and that this principle does not extend to enabling such vessels to utilize neutral ports directly for the purpose of hostile operations.

"His Majesty's government have decided that rule above mentioned is not to be understood as having any application to case of belligerent fleet proceeding either to the seat of war or to any position or positions on the line of route with the object of intercepting ships at suspicion of carrying contraband of war. Such fleet cannot be permitted to make use in any way of any British ports for the purpose of coaling either directly from the shore or from coalingers accompanying fleet, whether vessels of the fleet present themselves at the port at the same time or successively.

"His Majesty's government further direct that the practice be pursued with reference to single belligerent ships of war if it is clear that they are proceeding for the purpose of belligerent operations as above defined. This is not to be applied to the case of a vessel putting in on account of actual distress at sea."

The steamship Machaon, Capt. G. W. Long, of the Blue Funnel line, arrived here yesterday afternoon on her way to Japan, China, India and England, via the Suez canal and the Mediterranean.

On account of the fog which prevailed the Machaon came to anchor off Brechtie ledge after leaving the wharf, and waited until this morning to depart.

The cargo includes immense quantities of flour, machinery, cigarettes, domestic, lumber, nails, salmon and other staple articles of export. In accepting the cargo, care has been taken to exclude anything that might be construed as contraband or render the ship liable to capture at the hands of Russian cruisers.

WINTER SCHEDULE.

The winter schedule for C. P. R. steamers on the run to northern British Columbia ports has been arranged. According to this the Danube is taken off the run, and the Tees alone remains during the winter months. The latter will make two trips a month, the 1st and the 15th.

The new time table is now in effect. The Tees left, however, last night about of the new time for sailing. She will leave here again on the 15th of next month.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Gaelic, which is to make only one more trip across the Pacific, is the oldest steamer on the run from San Francisco to the Orient. She has made ninety-two trips across the Pacific.

The German ship Pollux, is due to arrive here. She is from South America, came ports, and will load lumber at the Hastings mills, Vancouver. The City of Puebla arrived last night from San Francisco. She had 157 passengers on board, and the usual consignments of freight.

SECRETARY OF STATE HAY.

Will Remain in Office If President Roosevelt Is Elected in November.

(Associated Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 30.—That Secretary of State John Hay is to remain at the head of the state department in case President Roosevelt is elected in November has been settled, according to President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, who was in Chicago today on his way home from the east. In an interview with a representative of the Associated Press, Wheeler at the auditorium annex, said:

"The best news I had while in the east I had from President Roosevelt, to the effect that John Hay has now definitely consented to remain at the head of the state department in case of President Roosevelt's election. This will be hailed this afternoon by all American citizens who appreciate how important are the international questions likely to arise within two or three years. There has been apprehension at various times that Mr. Hay, yielding to his natural liking for a quiet life of scholarly leisure, might withdraw from office. I was very much gratified to learn that the matter was settled."

IS VERY WEAK.

Bulletin Regarding Condition of United States Postmaster-General Payne.

(Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 30.—The physicians in attendance upon Postmaster-General Payne today issued the following bulletin:

"The postmaster-general had a very restless night and is very weak. His condition is serious. He is resting quietly at present, free from pain. (Signed) Magruder and Roke."

Dr. Magruder remained with Mr. Payne all last night, and was joined in consultation early this morning by Surgeon Roke and Dr. Grayson, both of the navy.

The postmaster-general's ailment is heart trouble, a new development from his great illness. He is resting quietly. Dr. Magruder left the bedside shortly before 1 o'clock, and said that there had been no improvement in Mr. Payne's condition since morning, and that he was now doing nicely. The nourishment given is being retained.

ANTI-FOREIGN SOCIETY

Formed by Natives in South Chi Li, China—Movement Is Spreading.

(Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 30.—Since May, says the Herald's Peking correspondent, there has been increasing unrest among the natives in South Chi Li, North Honan and West Anhanting districts. A new anti-foreign society, the Tsai Yuan, has been formed similar to the Boxers, with many members.

The movement is spreading rapidly, even during the present harvesting of good crops. The situation is much the same as in 1900, without the famine incentive. The placards of the new society being circulated are identical with the placards of the Boxers, with the following addition:

"If every member will distribute 30 copies we shall become as numerous as the Boxers, and on October 17th, the Chung Yuen festival, all foreigners will be destroyed."

The members of the Tsai Yuan include clerks, Yamen officials, Buddhist priests, and rich and influential natives. The fact of the Yamen subordinate being members of the society renders adverse action of the magistrates difficult.

MAY BE POSTPONED.

Seattle Civic Union Will Not Withdraw Objections to Long-Near Fight.

(Associated Press.)

Seattle, Sept. 30.—Sheriff Cuthbert stated this morning that the Long-Near fight, scheduled for to-night, will not take place until the objections interposed by the Civic Union are withdrawn. Members of the committee declare that under no circumstances will they withdraw their objections. There will probably be no fight.

FIGHT TO-NIGHT.

Gans and Walcott Will Box Twenty Rounds at San Francisco.

(Associated Press.)

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Joe Gans and Joe Walcott, the two champion colored pugilists, will meet at Woodward's pavilion to-night in a 20-round boxing contest. The men have agreed to weigh in at the ring side at 141 pounds, a weight which will involve no title, as each of the fighters will go out of his class to make the weight.

"SALAMBO" AT LOCAL PLAYHOUSE

WARDE AND KIDDER PRESENTED THIS PIECE

Full House and Many Curtain Calls—Production Purely Spectacular—Players and Their Parts.

A full house witnessed the presentation of Stanislaus Stange's play "Salambo" by the Warde-Kidder Company at the Victoria theatre last night. Mr. Warde is a favorite here, but seldom has been played to a larger crowd in this city than that which taxed the accommodation of the theatre by the present occasion. Then, too, there was a great deal of curiosity shown by playgoers in his latest production, Stange's dramatized version of Flaubert's novel having been very judiciously advertised.

But after all, the play possesses but very little intrinsic merit. Eliminate the gorgeous settings, and one would wonder at the mediocre production to which Mr. Warde and Kathryn Kidder have devoted their talents. Superb mountings, electrical effects and other extraneous contributory factors produce an impressive spectacle, but people who go to see players of prominence in the legitimate drama, want something more than scenery.

There are some features of the piece that the most elastic imagination declines to bolt or even consider, and these are not accompanied by adequate compensation in the shape of stately rhetoric. Occasionally there fell to Mr. Warde or Miss Kidder lines which enabled them to display their talent for declamation, but on the whole there was nothing in which either player could shine as luminously as ambitious Theophrastus might desire.

The play deals with the rise and fall of Matho, chief of the barbarian mercenaries of Carthage, who have for Salammbo, the daughter of Hamilcar, proved his undoing. Wonderful, wonderful, was the unfortunate Matho's infatuation. Because of it he perished the sacred veil, "woven by unseen hands," from the temple of the insatiable cannibal, Moloch. His possession of this object won for him the chieftainship of the mercenaries and placed Salammbo within his power. But Matho proved to be a very ungrateful barbarian, and surrendered the veil to his overlord, in order to save Salammbo's brother Hannibal from the ravenous maw of Moloch. The play ends with the death of both Matho and Salammbo on the steps of the acropolis.

Both the stars made the most of their parts, and as a tribute to their talent received many curtain calls. Mr. Warde, who plays the part of the overlord, is a very competent actor, and his performance brought him a few months' imprisonment and a world-wide advertisement. A recent case which has been occupying the court-martial of the First Bavarian Army Corps at Munich seems to show that the author had no need to draw on his imagination.

The military career of Max Freiherr von Horn, life leader of a squadron of mounted chieftains in the Bavarian army, as revealed before the military tribunal investigating the charges of desertion, abuse of military authority, fraud, and forgery, laid against him, reads like a chapter from Lieutenant Bille's notorious and unedifying booklet.

The captain had expensive tastes, of the kind Bille describes with such gusto, and in the ordinary course of things found himself compelled to "raise the wind" after approved methods. He began by misrepresenting his financial resources and showed the usual documentary evidence of his wife's income, omitting to mention the fact that it represented the lady's separate estate, and thereby inducing a brother officer and a local doctor to lend him $1,400 and $2,000 respectively, of which sums the two are now mourning the loss. He then persuaded two of his subalterns to back a couple of his notes of hand, which he made out for sums considerably higher than those agreed upon. Finally, to save unpleasant explanations, he forged their signatures, together with those of a brother officer and a local landowner, to eleven notes of hand, and duly put them in circulation.

In the course of last year, when the money lenders and blackmailers, which his mode of life brought about his ears, became clamorous, he succumbed to an attack of nervous prostration, and obtained leave of absence to recruit his health in the Riviera. Here he reviewed his financial obligations, and saw no way out of them save by the usual device of such stories, suicide. However, he thought better of this, and, adopting the alternative suggested by Bille made a bolt of it for London. Here again he succeeded in negotiating a loan, and left a broken man at the age of forty, to try his luck in South Africa. His welcome here did not come up to his expectations, and he moved on to southwest territories, where he blossomed out into a horse dealer. This congenial business, however, did not prove a financial success, and when the venture failed a mining magnate commissioned him to take a batch of horses over to Europe. Thus, towards the end of May, he drifted back to Berlin, where the police, on information received, were prompt to arrest him. The Munich court-martial has appended his moral to the story by cashiering its hero with a sentence of six years' imprisonment and ten years' police supervision.

This, however, is likely to be only an instalment. Other episodes in this latest "Tale From a Little Garrison Town" are alleged with which the military course are not at present in a position to deal adequately. By the time they have finally undermined its moral, the career of Herr von Horn may be instructive enough to furnish the author of "Jena oder Sedan?" with material for another novel of military life.—Fall Mail Gazette.

RUSSIAN ARMY TROUBLES.

In Search of Revolutionaries—Some Secret Orders.

The following extracts from confidential circulars to the Russian army staff, which the Osoboshchenie has published, and which the London Times reproduces, shed a vivid light on the working of revolutionary propaganda in the Czar's forces.

One of the secret circulars enjoins on the divisional commander the necessity for exercising more effective supervision over privates. Here are some of the stringent orders:

"In order to guard against the diffusion of political infection in the ranks an unrelaxing watch must be kept upon all letters received by privates, particularly by those of them who are Jews. The latter, moreover, shall be forbidden to receive letters written in Hebrew, and if any written in this language come to hand they are not to be passed to the addressee, but to be given up to the staff of the division or the authorities of the artillery corps for preservation until such time as they may be required. Any privates in whose possession letters in the Hebrew language may be discovered shall be visited with severe penalties. Letters in the Polish language shall be handed over to officers specially charged and appointed in each corps, who are masters of the Polish language. A similar course shall be observed in regard to letters in the languages of the other non-Russian peoples of the Empire."

Absence without leave on the part of privates is to be dealt with severely:

"One of the measures for putting a stop to absences without leave is that of making sudden nocturnal inspections of the soldiers' quarters, such inspections to be carried out by the commanders on duty of companies, squadrons, batteries and battalions, and by the commanders of sections. There is no need to wake the men, but it is necessary to make sure that every private is sleeping in his bed. Such examinations are to be made at various hours of the night."

Another secret circular is addressed to the staff at Vilna. It reads:

"There have recently been discovered in the garrison of N— and in the sections of the railway brigade camps of the appearance of revolutionary propaganda amongst the privates, the disseminators of criminal ideas striving to be for the most part Jewish privates, some of them being volunteers. To prevent a repetition of anything of the kind among the troops of the district, I insist that the commanders of sections shall use the utmost rigor in insuring a strict observance of all regulations of the inner service. . . . I request battalion commanders and commanders holding a corresponding position in the artillery, cavalry, and engineers to make sudden nocturnal inspections for the purpose of checking the numbers of the privates and searching their trunks and their clothes; that on church festivals conversations of a moral and religious character with the privates shall be instituted. A merely formal attitude in this matter will be productive of no advantage whatever; it is accordingly incumbent upon those in authority to take care that the conversations are made as interesting as possible."

Another matter of which the heads of the army are much perturbed is the "leakage" of information to the foreign press, and those concerned are severely warned of the consequences to anyone who is found out. Still, as the above extracts show, there are still leakages.

VICTIM OF ROBBERS.

James Murphy, Shot by Seattle Bandit, Succumbs to Injuries.

Seattle, Sept. 29.—James Murphy, one of the victims of a bullet of the two masked bandits who held up and robbed Lou Conway's saloon at 723 Maynard avenue at 3 o'clock Monday morning, died this morning at the Wayside Emergency hospital.

Murphy's murderers are still at large. The police have been working night and day to apprehend the assassins, but so far they have not been found, and no tangible clue has been learned.

The bandit who did the shooting stopped in the door between the saloon and the billiard room. He told Conway to hold up his hands. When the proprietor refused to do so the bandit fired. The bullet struck him in the arm. Murphy turned to see what the trouble was and directly faced the man with the revolver. Another bullet was fired and it struck Murphy in the stomach. McBeath started to run and he was shot in the leg. Longfield escaped two bullets fired at him. Later the second robber went behind the bar, took $100 from the cash register and took a revolver from Conway's pocket.
